Glenn O. Simmons, MBA

Co-Founder and President of Premier Administration, LLC.

Mr. Simmons has taught accounting and finance classes at Southern Utah University and Utah Valley State College. For several years, he had a consulting company which specialized in turning around financially troubled companies. He has started numerous successful businesses.

In 1989, while working in a firm specializing in financial planning for high net worth individuals, he had occasion to work on several cases with Alden B. Tueller.

"I think that charitable institutions must be very careful—with donors and the professional community—to make sure that everything they are involved with is done exactly right," says Mr. Simmons. "That is where we come in. We will make sure your CRT (Charitable Remainder Trust) complies and continues to comply with IRS regulations. We will also go the extra mile by helping the donor to understand how the CRT works, and we will be the watchdog for the charity and the donor. We have the experience and knowledge that is critical."
